Silver Tea

Casino flights owe $48,000, Walters says

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Hancock Port and Harbor officials are hot over mounting, unpaid bills they've sent to a charter airline company.

With the total tab standing at some $48,000, airport officials say they're poised to do more than just ask for payment from the charter flight company, Express One of Dallas. If payment isn't made immediately, the airport will begin demanding checks from the planes' pilots before they take off, airport officials say.

An attorney for the airline company said it may stop flights to Stennis if airport authorities do that.

"That suits us fine -- if we're going to lose money on every flight," said Hal Walters, director of the Port and Harbor commission which operates the airport. Walters said if the charter company doesn't pay, Hancock taxpayers in effect are sponsoring the charter flight business.

In fact, the planes will be banned from using the facility altogether, said Walters, unless the overdue charges are paid.

"We are going to get our money," Walters said, adding the company is 90 to 120 days in arrears. "There's no excuse for that."

The subject came up Monday during a commission meeting where officials noted how business is booming at the airport. In fact, revenues would have met expenses at the facility for the first time ever, Walters said, if Express One were current with their payments.

The charter company handles flights for gamblers headed to Casino Magic from points all across the country.

Krewe of Nereids to sponsor saltwater fishing tournament

Special to the Echo
It's time to go fishin' and partyin' with the Krewe of Nereids.

Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1, are the dates of the first annual Fishing Tournament sponsored by the Krewe of Nereids.

Tournament organizers Tommy Kidd, Chuck Breath, Bill Whitfield, Jody Gex and Allen Koskan promise a strike every time you wet your hook.

"Thousands view the Nereids parade each year in celebration of carnival," notes Tommy Kidd. "We hope hundreds will come out and fish with us to celebrate our fishin' way of life on the Coast."

Tournament entries can be picked up anytime at Daddy O's or from a Nereids members.

The entrance fee of $25 per person includes a pre-tournament crawfish boil on Friday night at the home of Pete and Janice Gaudin and a Sunday night scale closing party from 6 to 10 p.m. with live music by Guitar Bo and Miss Dee. Guests can participate in the pre-tournament fun and food, if not the fishing, for $5 in advance. On Sunday, the freshest of fried fish dinners will be offered for $5 a plate.

According to Chuck Breath, the organizers have secured the services of an official weighmaster with certified scales for the weigh-in.

Categories of fish include speckled trout, redfish, flounder, cobia, lemon, red snapper and Spanish mackerel.

All trophies will be awarded at the Nereids Seafood Bash May 14.

Opportunities to compete are endless:

- the most pounds of fish caught in the most categories;
- the largest fish in each of the six categories;
- total weight of fish in each of the categories;
- largest fish not in any of the six categories.

Deadline for the entry fee and registration is 8 p.m. Friday, April 29.

Two escape injury after tornado hits

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Hancock County crews were clearing debris Wednesday from a tornado that slammed down Tuesday in northwest Hancock County.

The twister hit at 4:55 p.m. with no warning from weather officials that tornadoes were likely or were in the area, said Sheriff Ronnie Peterson.

Two people escaped serious injury when their trailer was picked up, flipped over several

Dreaded deadline looms for taxpayers

BY MARY G. SEILEY
With the dreaded April 15 deadline looming, even the most serious procrastinators are sharpening their pencils or plugging in their computers to get to work.

"It's a standard thing. We all push it to the edge," said Jolly Rogers Printing Co.'s owner, Allison Keller. Many an area resident has edged into line at her Highway 90 offices to make copies of the freshly-completed forms just hours before they have to be on their way to the IRS.

Jolly Rogers will be open until 9 p.m. tonight to accommodate them, with two copiers whirring away.

And while the Post Office is closed at that hour, there are other accommodations. A specially marked slot inside the main Post Office at the Bay St. Louis-Waveland line will be available for income tax returns.

Post Master Jimmy Moore said Wednesday any mail dropped in the box by midnight will be postmarked April 15. He's counting on public honesty somewhat, because whatever is in the special box when the first clerk arrives at 4 a.m. on the 16th gets 15th cancellation.

Moore said the Post Office here traditionally collects 20 to 40 last-minute returns. "It's always the same, every April 15th, all over the country," Moore said of those who opt to wait until the deadline. But the local facility doesn't see the crunch that big-city Post Offices suffer, he said.

Meanwhile, getting those last returns done keeps area tax preparers busy, sometimes into the night.

"We're staying busy and I know there are people who haven't even come in," said Mary Billiot, owner of H&R Block on Highway 90. They need not worry too much: "We're going to stay here as long as we have to," said Billiot, to complete the work.

Casino Magic likely to be re-licensed despite inquiry

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Bay St. Louis' Casino Magic likely will be re-licensed this month, a state Gaming Commission official said Wednesday.

day, despite an on-going inquiry by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"I expect them to be relicensed at our meeting on the 21st," said Chuck Patton, assistant director of the commission.

The casino, which opened in October 1992, and commission are amid a series of relicensing meetings. Relicensing is required every two years for Mississippi casinos.

Patton said the process includes commission staff updates of background investigations of casino principals, and a review of "what they've done in two years ... what kind of corporate citizens they've been."

Patton said he sees "nothing unusual" stemming from the commission's relicensing investigations. He also said while the SEC's investigation "obviously is of concern to us," that federal probe may result in nothing that would impact the relicensing process.

Casino Magic officials say they have responded to a subpoena issued in February by the SEC in connection with the corporation's initial public offering in October 1992. The subpoena focuses on possible violation of federal securities laws, and names other gaming companies and certain

School District to conduct survey

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
The Bay-Waveland Municipal School District will conduct a student survey next week.

Paul A. Tisdale, superintendent said, "We will be sending a survey home with kindergarten through sixth graders for parents on either Tuesday or Wednesday."

Teachers will gather information from junior high and senior high students.

The trustees and superintendent have determined there is a need to evaluate the facilities currently available for students.

The survey is a general information request and will not require the name of a parent.

Questions on the survey include the name of the company or firm where the father, mother or guardian works; location; grade of student; grade and schools other brothers and sisters attend, and how long the family has resided in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District.

"I urge parents to return the survey information with the students the next morning of school," Tisdale said.

The information will be reviewed by the building committee, which consists of Tisdale, Billy Rhodes, Garland Cuevas, Linda Penrose, Tom Clark, Kevin Fitzpatrick, Charles Scianna, Stan Weidman and Joe D. McCullough.

Dr. Bill Lee, a retired USM professor, will study the information and make recommendations to the building committee for the trustees.

Tisdale said, "We want to know the impact, if any, gaming caused, and what can be expected down the road in the number of students to be in the system. We want to be prepared with classrooms if they are needed."

Bourgeois presents Alternative Program to Bay-Waveland district

BY ELLIS CUEVAS
Hancock County School Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois discussed her district's Alternative School Program Monday with trustees of the Bay St. Louis School District.

Bourgeois said the state law allows two or more bordering districts to combine in the Alternative School Program.

Bourgeois went over the program step by step and then presented a copy of the program to each trustee and to Superintendent Paul A. Tisdale for review.

In other action, a discussion was held by the Bay-Waveland board on the Vocational Agreement between the two school districts.

In reviewing the agreement, board attorney Lucien Gex reported he could not find any place on it where the exact amount of cost per student for the Bay-Waveland district was mentioned.

The Bay-Waveland system

contracts with the Hancock County Schools system for Voc-Tech training of students.

The trustees were unanimous in seeking further information before voting for the agreement's passage.

Superintendent Tisdale's office staff and non-certified personnel were unanimously passed by the district's trustees.

At the end of the regular agenda, the trustees voted to go into executive session to discuss student matters.

ADAM JOSEPH DAHLGREN
On His Birthday

Died Oct. 20, 1993
Lil' Man, it has been six months since you were taken from us at the beginning of your life.
We do not understand why God has taken you from us. He knew how much we loved you.
The pain of that day is still lingering and will do so for some time to come.
The gifts of new life you gave to four families will always be remembered, and in that memory you will live on.
Love and miss you,

Correction

In the honor rolls published for Hancock North Central Elementary School's Ms. Angela Stephenson's first grade BETA (B Average), Christina Staub's name was misspelled.

"Get to Mercy Hospital as soon as you can!" the note read, "Mary had a terrible accident!" I was intercepted as I walked down the corridor to the emergency room. "Mary killed herself" was the muffled statement of one of her aunts. "She took a gun and blew part of her head off."

My heart sank at the horrible news as my thoughts went back almost 24 years to the moment I had baptized 3-month-old Mary. I could only imagine the pains her mother and father were experiencing, given the intensity of my own.

Like a wounded duck, I negotiated the 50-minute car trip to Covington, La. where St. Peter Catholic Church was celebrating its seventh annual black history program. They had chosen me to address the theme: The Black Family.

I had no choice, I felt, but to begin my talk with the traumatic suicide of Mary under which I was still smarting in crushed disbelief. Yes, here was one of the current problems of the black family, not exclusively, but so poignantly.

"Just two score years ago," I began, "76 percent of our black families had mama and papa together. Today, as most of you are well aware, that figure is well below 50 percent and falling from day to day."

"While that is not nearly the sum total of our black family problems, it is a very telling flaw, especially when we consider the disappearance of the extended family."

"We hear time and again that some 100,000 homeless black children are roaming the streets daily. A generation ago, such a thing was unthinkable, because Aunt Sue, Uncle Joe or some relative was always there to pick up the slack.

"Where have we gone wrong, reflecting that so many black youth take as their role models drug dealers and pimps who can generate big money fast and live high on the hog?"

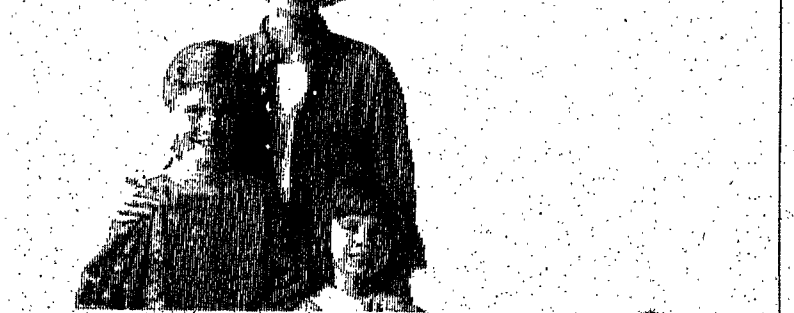

"Where have we gone wrong, considering that our big cities had record homicides in 1993, most of them young black males? Where have we failed, in light of the disappearance of family and extended family influence on our young people?"

"In light of the overwhelming peer pressure and gang influence over our youngsters, how much more will it take to scare and flush us adults out of our apathy into an urgent mind-set which impels us to find lasting solutions?"

Pausing for breath and effect, I asked the gathering why our forebears had been so effective in adapting and customizing

Casino locations subject of forum

BY MARY G. SEILEY

A public forum on how official decisions are made on casino locations is set for tonight.

The Sierra Club is sponsoring a 7:30 p.m. forum on the topic, featuring Gaming Commission Director Paul Harvey, at the Marine Education Center in Biloxi.

Club officials say the meeting isn't intended to be a debate, but a discussion of issues.

Harvey has been asked to talk about what criteria the Gaming Commission uses in considering applications for casino sites, what type of

Louis Miller, lobbyist for the Sierra Club, will state the case for protecting wetlands from degradation. Gerald Blessey, an attorney, will offer suggestions for resolving opposing concerns. Becky Gillette, soil and water commissioner, will talk about "inadequate practices that need to be corrected."

The forum is free to the public.

Chili cookoff set for Apr. 23

BY MARY G. SEILEY
The third annual Mississippi Coast Regional Chili Cookoff is set for April 23 at Casino Magic's big tent in Bay St. Louis.

Sponsored by the casino and sanctioned by the International Chili Society, the event features $500, $300 and $200 prizes. The first place winner qualifies to cook in Nevada at the world finals, with a shot at $25,000.

More than 40 teams have registered to participate, including six teams from Mississippi.

The public is invited to attend and taste. A "taster cup" will cost $1, allowing the holder to sample from each pot. Entertainment will be provided by the Garland Moran band, with proceeds going to the Bay St. Louis Doll and Toy Fund.

Public tasting begins at 2:30 p.m. An informal "Miss Chili Pepper" contest will be held at 12:30 p.m. Contestants must be at least 16 years old. The winner gets $50, a tiara and a sash.

the best from the cultures of other races and ethnic groups, whereas most blacks now seem hell-bent on the worst.

"Of course, because in making elements from other cultures their own they first filtered them through the Bible."

Then I did the "Danny Boy" (Derry Air) routine for them, singing first the Irish song, the "He Looked Beyond My Fault" the black gospel adaptation of the air to the gospel teaching of a beautiful Savior who forgets the evil we do.

This time, there were several Irish in the house who were thrilled beyond words at the serendipity of encountering "Danny Boy" at, of all places, a celebration of black history. That merely rendered the demonstration more effective.

Instead of the infamous gangsta rap etc., our black families must return to filtering everything through the Bible.

Flights

Express One, the tour company, he would be aware of any dispute over charges.

In some contracts Express One holds, the tour company which books the flights are responsible for landing fees and other charges. In other cases, he said, Express One is.

Tompkins said if there is a problem, it could simply be a bookkeeping foul-up based on the fact that several different companies are involved: Express One, Front Page Tours of Minneapolis, and Casino Magic of Bay St. Louis. Perhaps the bills were sent to the wrong company, Tompkins said.

He also insisted that Express One has been using Stennis only for a short time, beginning the end of February or early March.

That contention, said Walters, is simply untrue. The flights have been coming in for 8 or 10 months, he said, and now represent 95 percent of all flight activity at the airport.

Charges at issue include enplanement and deplanement fees ($1.50 per passenger), a 75-cent charge per seat for airport security, and a landing fee based on the gross weight of the aircraft.

Other fees, for services to the planes, are charged by Phillip's Aviation, which collects what's Gulfport and the airport accommodated 5,000 passengers last month, on 49 flights. Fuel sales reached an all-time high of some 102,000 gallons, he said. Among last month's flights as the first charter for Jubilee Casino — three more are planned for this month.

The airport itself has become overburdened by the activity, Walters said. The runway, second longest in the state, was built 22 years ago. It saw very little activity for the next 20 years, only to be hit by heavy traffic bringing thousands of gamblers to the Coast.

The commission has applied for federal grants to overlay the main runway, taxiway and apron area. Walters said the projects will increase the apron parking area to double the number of plans the facility can handle at once.

The runway itself, he said, is rapidly deteriorating and must be repaved.

In other business Monday, the commission agreed to pay some $12,000 to repair the locomotive it owns and operates at Port Bienville. The commission also agreed to sell the locomotive and lease a replacement next year. The commission already has one locomotive under lease.

times and landed some 50 feet from its site on Mitchell Road, off Highway 43 near the Hancock-Pearl River county line, the sheriff said.

The same storm system devastated a neighborhood in the Woolmarket community of Harrison County, killing at least two people and injuring at least 15.

In Hancock County, Peterson said the bulk of the damage was confined to the trailer, but there was roof damage to some homes in the area. Roads in the vicinity were blocked briefly by tree limbs, he said, but county workers cleared them shortly after the storm passed.

"We were very fortunate that nobody got killed," Peterson said of the storm. Residents of the area reported that there had been only light rain before the twister developed and descended.

National Weather Service officials in Mobile hadn't issued a tornado watch or warning, Peterson said. "It just came quick-like."

securities firms as well as Casino Magic.

At least three casino companies and brokerage houses are said to be in the SEC investigation, including Innovative Gaming Corporation of America and Casino Data Systems, both partially owned by Grand Casinos Inc. of Minnesota. Grand Casino, which owns two casinos in Harrison County, has not received a subpoena, its officials said.

Meanwhile, Casino Magic's president and chief executive officer said the corporation has the SEC matter under review. "We have not discovered any facts which would lead us to believe that the company violated any law or regulation in connection with our initial public offering or otherwise," Marlin Torguson said.

And the fact that an inquiry is being conducted by the SEC "should not be considered as an opinion" by the SEC that any laws have been violated, he said.

Torguson said in keeping with SEC's policy, no further details of the matter would be released at this point.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Sunday night the Diamondhead Performing Arts Society will present an evening of 'Musical Splendor' at 7 p.m. in the Diamondhead Country Club.

It is to be an evening of Gershwin, Sondheim, and Lerner and Lowe, featuring 'The Soundations,' 'The Mississippi Sound' and 'The Soundwaves.'

The program is to be presented by students of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College, Perkinston Campus.

It is said to be a great evening of entertainment, and tickets will be available the door or from Diamondhead Discount Drugs. Ticket prices are adults $12.50 and students $3 each.

I hope to see you Saturday night.

The second annual Christ Episcopal Church Men's Club Catfish Dinner will be Friday night.

The event takes place at Virginia Hall from 4 to 8 p.m.

The menu includes, fresh catfish, hush puppies, potato salad and coleslaw.

Tickets will be available at the church office, 912 S. Beach Blvd. or at the door. Tickets are for a donation of $6 each.

I have been told that 'Master Chef J.D. (Big John) Rutherford will be directing the cooking, and he has an assortment of understudies helping.

I hope to stop by for my dinner Friday night on my way home from work. Hope to see you there.

How fast time has passed this year. April 15 will already be here tomorrow.

That is the dreaded date for those things called income and state taxes.

Jane and I completed our tax returns (well, we had someone prepare them for us) a week ago and sent for a refund from one and check to the other. The only problem is, the refund check is smaller than the amount owed the other.

It appears there is no way to avoid taxes of some kind. On the other hand, financially one is bad off if one does not have to pay taxes.

If you haven't filed your taxes as yet, you have until midnight Friday, April 15 for 1993's.

By the way, Allison Kellar of Jolly Rogers Printing plans to be open until 9 p.m. Friday night as a convenience for customers to make copies of their taxes.

It is always good to make copies of tax filings, as you never know when you may need them.

I hope everyone gets their taxes filed on time.

Diane Ladner, as many of you know, was residing, along with a grandson at the Brignac's home, her mother's, several weeks ago when it was destroyed by fire.

To add grief to fire destruction, their little dog wandered off several days after the fire.

Owners can become very attached to a dog or cat, as they become part of the family.

It so happened that on Monday of this past week, I received a telephone call from a friend who resides on deMontluzin telling me she and a neighbor had a small dog follow them home while they were walking in the neighborhood.

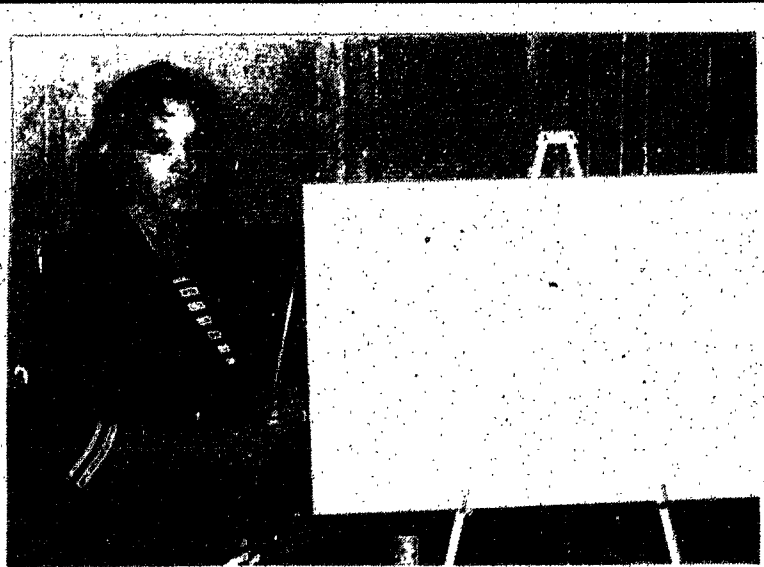

They brought the dog down to the office, and I got a good look at her. The next morning Diane Ladner and her grandson came into my office with a photo of their dog.

They wanted to know if I could help them in any way in finding their precious little dog.

I looked at the photo, and I wish you could have seen the change in their expressions on their faces when I told them I knew who had their dog.

Well, to make a long story short, I called my friend and told her the dog's owners were on their way, and she was happy.

Diane called me back to say how much she and her grandson appreciated the ladies taking care of their dog and were very thankful to have their pet back.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Competitive bill goes to conference

Key House and Senate Commerce Committee members, meeting in conference, will soon add the final touches to a bill that will provide grants and loans to small, high-technology industries so they can better compete in the global marketplace.

The National Competitive bill, which passed the House last year, and the Senate in March, will help guide millions of federal dollars toward the private sector to encourage new product development and manufacturing techniques.

If America is to be competitive in the next century, and if we intend to meet the demands of a global economy, we must continue America's tradition of working with industry to improve industry.

For decades, American policy has formed partnerships in energy, defense, medicine and aerospace. As far back as 1863, government and farmers formed a partnership known as the Land Grant College Act of 1862. For 132 years government has successfully encouraged American agribusiness. Today, we are the world's bread basket.

The legislation takes a "common sense" approach, much like former policies, at tackling America's economic and jobs situation. As many communities shift to "defense conversion," the measure will allow those people involved in national defense to play a major role in reviving our own economy. An overall strategy of the bill is to encourage defense-based manufacturers to move toward producing consumer-oriented products.

Small and medium-size businesses who before were unable to get their hands on key ideas and information, will essentially be able to obtain the necessary tools to work on improving quality, lowering costs and speeding development.

Manufacturing provisions in the bill will create a national system of manufacturing extension centers and technical services. The system will improve the ability of Mississippi's small and medium-size manufacturers to modernize manufacturing techniques there by increasing product quality and productivity.

The small and medium-size businesses of this country are the backbone of America's industrial base. Manufacturing establishments with fewer than 500 employees represent almost 98 percent of the nation's total manufacturing workforce.

If these businesses lag behind our foreign rivals in the commercialization of new technology for more than a decade, which many have, America could risk losing its traditional strength in pioneering inventions and discoveries.

With this bill, we can create the environment that many of our small manufacturers need to grow in the next century. It will create jobs, retain existing jobs and improve the foundation of America's manufacturing base.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bonfire ban should be for all

Dear Editor,

When you went to the beach this past weekend, what did you take with you?

Bottles of soft drinks, cans of root beer, firewood or bags of rice?

I'm sure no residents of Hancock County took these items with them.

If they had, they certainly would have disposed of the empty containers properly, leaving the beach a pleasant area for locals and tourists alike.

I called the Bay St. Louis Fire Department two weeks ago for a bonfire permit. We wanted to have a twilight bonfire on the beach.

Beach bonfires have been cancelled until further notice due to beach construction. Because of this, we changed our plans.

We decided to take our dogs to the beach Sunday afternoon. It was obvious that others hadn't been very conscientious. Trash was everywhere, especially at the high tide line and the new expanse of beach.

Someone had had their bonfire—remember, without a permit—had their sodas, and who knows what the bags of rice were for!

No one bothered to dispose of their litter in the trash containers provided, just left a mess for the rest of us.

I would like to believe that all of us are happy about the beach expansion. Please, if you visit the beach, take your trash home with you!

Reader concerned about R.R. accident preparedness

Dear Editor,

Another devastating train/car accident in Waveland.

The signals and gates are being installed on Coleman Avenue now.

Many 100-car freight trains pass on this track. Our question:

If a 100-car freight train has an accident with a toxic or hazardous waste spill between say Waveland Avenue in Waveland and Washington Avenue in Bay St. Louis, becomes immobile, the exits to escape for many would be blocked.

Has an evacuation notice been posted for the public? Forewarned is forearmed.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Yvonne Churchill/Hasney

Fire departments need to have certified electrician

Dear Editor:

Mr. Karl Aderer's letter about the tragic burning loss of the Brignac home seems to be provoking much criticism and defensiveness.

I must admit, as a home owner, it is frightening to think that the fire department could be called twice and twice to inspect and pronounce the situation under control, and then call the third time and see one's house burn to the ground.

One cannot help but be reminded of the horrible occasion several years ago when a fire claimed the lives of four foster children in Waveland. It was reported that the fire department had been out hours earlier and controlled that situation, also.

I'm sure our fire departments have dedicated and competent professionals. I have the pleasure of knowing many of them personally.

My son is an officer in the U.S. Navy and tells me that every fire detail aboard ship must contain a certified electrician. It would be reassuring to know that our own fire department does also.

Sincerely,
Evelyn Jacob

Writer tells of community college's contributions

Dear Editor:

April is National Community College Month, and just recently Governor Kirk Fordice has proclaimed April as Public Community and Junior College Month in Mississippi.

In the light of these designations, please allow me to commend Pearl River Community College — our community college in Hancock County.

Located in Poplarville, Pearl River Community College's district encompasses Forrest, Hancock, Jefferson Davis, Lamar, Marion and Pearl River counties.

In Hattiesburg, PRCC operates the Forrest County Center and an Allied Health Center, one of the most state-of-the-art facilities in the state and nation.

Founded in 1908, Pearl River was the first junior college created in Mississippi. Because of its excellence in education, PRCC has experienced a 78 percent increase in enrollment since 1984.

PRCC has expanded its academic and vocational-technical offerings to provide nationally-recognized instruction that prepares students for continuing education and the work force.

Through the leadership of the president, administration, faculty, staff and board of trustees,

Christ Episcopal Silver Tea announced

The women of Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis will host a Silver Tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 24 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wyly, 216 North Beach.

Proceeds from the annual public event will support the many charitable activities of the church women.

Initiated more than half a century ago, the Episcopal Silver Tea has become not only a major fund raiser for good causes, but an anticipated social occasion, retaining as it does the relaxed atmosphere and graciousness of the era of afternoon teas.

For newcomers to this area it should be noted that no tickets are sold and no invitations issued. Everyone is welcome and may leave a donation.

The Wyly home faces the bay on property once the site of the turn-of-the-century, white-frame Tulane Hotel, for decades a mecca for vacationing New Orleanians.

Eventually destroyed by fire, it was replaced circa 1930 by a red-tiled stucco house in Spanish mission style. The property had a succession of owners until in 1986 it was purchased by James and Teri Wyly.

Just completed construction has added a wing of four bedrooms, three baths, a music room, and a recreational room to the original structure.

Co-chairing the tea are Suzanne Truett, Ruth Carlson, Teri Wyly, Carol Vegas and Nannette Stroh.

Galaxy appeals on state permit issues

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Galaxy Casino officials are asking the state Commission on Wildlife and Fisheries reverse itself and approve the gaming facility's location in Hancock County.

Alvin Perry, president of the California-based firm seeking the permits, said the issue is set for discussion April 19. Last month, the commission denied a zoning change that the casino needed for its site between Buccaneer State Park and Lakeshore Road.

Rejection of the project, he said, would be a "travesty" for Hancock County. Some 1,200 to 1,400 jobs are at stake, Perry said. "It would just be an outright shame to deny the community those jobs when basically the commission has no solid reason -- in fact no reason at all -- to deny it," Perry said.

Facilities planned include a 75,000-square foot barge casino at the foot of a 300-foot long pier. Deck areas for fishing, walking and sitting are planned as well.

Across the street, Perry plans to build a hotel and parking garage. He controls some 70 acres of land -- but only five of the 70 can be used, due to wetlands. Two of the useable acres now house a trailer park.

Perry said the casino has met every concern outlined by the commission or Bureau of Marine Resources staff who had recommended against allowing the project.

The zoning change sought by Galaxy, he said, could be allowed under any one of the four official reasons that the commission denied for Spectrum Gaming of Mississippi to locate in the Back Bay at d'Iberville. Like Galaxy, that casino needed permits for dredging, bulkheads and piers, and a change from general use zoning to allow the activity.

The commission reversed itself and allowed the project, after casino developers argued that the area in question was commercial in nature despite its classification as "general" use.

sion uses to grant such requests, he said.

One of those reasons is that the area, zoned for general use, actually is commercial in nature, Perry said. The Galaxy site is surrounded by, or includes, a trailer park and motel, he added. It is less than a mile away from Jubilee Casino.

He also said the contention that the area is residential in nature doesn't take into account that the homes in the area are owned by weekend-only residents. Another issue, BMR's contention that the site is conducive to growing sea grasses, was put to rest by expert testimony to the contrary, Perry said.

And rather than stifle fishing opportunities for the area, he said, the project will enhance them by providing a safe, comfortable place for fishermen. The well-lighted area also would provide opportunities for night fishing, he said.

In February, the Wildlife Commission reconsidered per-

Leetown park site sought; harbor site pending

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Hancock County officials are eyeing a new park site in the Leetown area, but they haven't begun a search for a new harbor.

The Board of Supervisors agreed to apply for a five-acre lease from county school officials for a tract boarded by the old Picayune-Kiln Highway and Highway 43 South.

County park commissioner A.L. Franklin said there are no recreational facilities in the area. The new site could accommodate softball, baseball and soccer, he said.

Franklin said residents of the area have been using a privately-owned area for ball games, but that site no longer is available.

In a related matter, the board agreed to advertise for bids to buy lighting for the Kiln ball-field -- although most of the 30 lights the county had stockpiled have inexplicably vanished.

Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise and District 3 Supervisor Howard Lizana said there should be an investigation of what happened to the lights the county purchased several months ago.

Franklin said the county purchased light poles, wiring and lights for the facility. "Now the lights have disappeared," he said.

The harbor matter was raised by District 1 Supervisor Robert Peterson, who represents the area including Bayou Caddy Marina. The county recently sold the marina for $260,000, with a pledge that it would escrow the money and launch an immediate search for a new commercial and recreational harbor.

Peterson on Monday asked Port and Harbor Commission director Hal Walters if the search for a harbor site had begun. Walters said he wasn't aware the board wanted the commission to be in charge of finding a site. "We were in hopes you would do it," Walters told the board.

Peterson said the most critical need is finding a site to replace the marina's boat launch. Hopefully, a site can be found for that in the Bayou Caddy area, he said.

In other waterfront matters, Peterson again urged the board to consider emergency repairs to deteriorating sections of South Beach Boulevard, which he termed the "worst" roadway in the county. "It's falling to pieces," he said. "The sidewalks are caving into the road," in some areas.

Although the county recently purchased 200 yards of material to patch the worst sections, the work hasn't begun. "It's getting worse ... Go look at it. We need to get that fixed," he said.

While there was no further action taken on the roadway, the board threw its backing behind a private effort to sponsor construction of several artificial fishing reefs. Chris Lagarde of Gulf Coast Fishing Banks, Inc., gathered the supervisors' signatures on petitions concerning the reefs.

Last month, the board lamented a lack of response it's received from the Bureau of Marine Resources concerning the reef construction the board has sought.

Lagarde said his organization has been stockpiling concrete rubble in hopes of creating reefs waters off Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Clermont Harbor. The county has been pushing for oyster reef construction, but Peterson said any type of reef would be better than no reefs at all.

Lagarde said the reef construction project is gaining momentum among state and local officials.

BMR has some $400,000 for such projects -- funding it's received from state leases of sites for floating casinos.

tees, PRCC has added over $12 million in facilities, personnel and programs over the past five years.

New facilities include a Technology Center, Science and Math Complex, two resident halls, the Allied Health Center, a Learning Resource Center, and a $1.2 million cafeteria.

Besides education excellence, Pearl River Community College has a significant impact on the economy in south Mississippi. The college operates a $20 million total budget with an annual payroll of $10 million. Some 283 people work at PRCC in its vision to provide a first-class education for its students.

On the state level, statistics show that 70,000 students in Mississippi attend community colleges. And, 72 percent of all freshmen in college in Mississippi attend community colleges.

I encourage the citizens of Hancock County to consider the strong and positive contributions Pearl River Community College makes to our quality of life in south Mississippi.

Lower Bay Road upgrade planned

County officials plan to beef up the load-bearing capacity of Lower Bay Road, from Highway 90 to Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Bids on the 2.8-mile project will be opened April 26.

County Engineer Larry Seal said Monday the road wasn't designed to carry the heavy truck traffic which uses it. "It's tearing it all to pieces," Seal said.

In addition to improving the route's load-bearing capacity, officials plan to widen it slightly, repave and stripe it, and install guard rails and new signs.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

RSVP picnic is April 21

CAROLING SENIORS
Local United Way Senior Center is having a caroling event on Thursday, April 21 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 300 South Second Street (the old city hall). For more information and if you need transportation, please call 255-1317.

MORE ACTIVITIES
Tickets cost $5 and are available through many United Way agencies for "The Special Benefit Sale" at Gayfers on Saturday, April 23 from 6:30-9:30 a.m.

Door prizes, including a seven-day Caribbean cruise for two, compliments of Travel Affiliates and Commodore Cruise Lines, and a Continental breakfast will be served.

To receive additional sayings, bring in old jeans, dress shirts and blouses for Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi. For information, contact United Way of South Mississippi at 863-4884.

IT'S SHOWTIME
Tickets are available at $12.50 adult, $3 child, for the Diamondhead Performing Arts coming attractions at Diamondhead Discount Drugs and will be sold at the door this Saturday, April 16, 7 p.m. at the country club.

Don't miss the great entertainment of our own Mississippi

Gulf Coast Community College ensemble, The Soundations, the Soundwaves and the Mississippi Sound, ten singers and dancers, who will present an evening of George Gershwin, Stephen Sondheim and Lerner and Lowe.

A very talented young lady, Marilyn Smith, directs these young people through their routines. Hope to see you at the audience.

Don't forget Charmaine Neville when she covers the whole spectrum in styles with her good music Sunday, May 1.

Send for your tickets with a stamped self-addressed envelope to DPAS P. O. Box 6028, Diamondhead, MS 39525. Adults $12.40, child $9.50. Tickets will also be available at the door.

'PROJECT KIDS'
If attendance, parents and children's enthusiasm are good reasons why Dick Alves' dream of having a Little Theatre for Kids in Diamondhead becomes a reality, then the first organizational meeting Friday, April 8 at the community center was a success.

Bravo to those "kids on stage" from Biloxi for the wonderful entertainment. Now watch this column for the next meeting of Diamondhead's Kids Theatre.

SPCA
Jean Keen, president of the Diamondhead's own SPCA says "that spring has sprung, and as the poet says, young men's fancies (young women's, too) have turned to you know what, and that's not just homosapiens. We're talking about the whole animal world.

"In the SPCA context that's dogs and cats. So if you haven't been thinking spay/neuter, please start now."

A reminder that the next meeting of the Diamondhead SPCA is Tuesday, April 26 at 7 p.m. at the community center.

New members and volunteers are always welcome. On April 30 there will be "Canine Capers" (a fun dog show) at the E. Rec., and on May 26 a style show and silent auction at the country club.

NEXT CONCERT
Those heavenly voices of the Bay Area Chorale are sounding so beautiful as they rehearse Tuesday nights at the Diamondhead Baptist Church. Joy Mehrtens, director, takes this musical group to their next concert at St. Paul Church in Pass Christian Sunday, June 12 at 3 p.m. Watch this column for further details.

SPRING LUNCHEON
Those wonderful ladies of St. Vincent de Paul Society of Annunciation Parish are busy planning their annual spring luncheon, boutique and fashion show at 11:30 a.m. April 27 at the newly renovated parish center in Kiln. The menu will be scrumptious as usual, and tickets are available at $9 from any member of the society. Please show your support for a very worthy cause.

THOUGHTS TO SHARE
Happiness is intrinsic, it's an internal thing. When you build it into yourself, no external circumstances can take it away. That kind of happiness is a 24-hour thing. Be happy, and have a wonderful week!

Diamondhead Country Club is setting for 'Sweet 16' party

Special to the Echo
Another night of teen-agerite of passage had hundreds partying when a "Sweet 16" party was the highlight at the Diamondhead Country Club. Dr. Rock & The Interns put the sparkle in the music. Each of the nine girls honored at this "Tropical Night in Paradise" wore a long formal dress and carried a single rose. "Sentimental" was played as they proceeded forward, escorted by their dates. "My Girl" was the song for the daughter-dad duo. All eyes turned to the nine girls:

Marcie Bankston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Garcia, escorted by Jason Blanchette. Gina Cadrecha, daughter of Mrs. Cabrini Cadrecha, escorted by Matt Kopfler. Jami Chiniche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Chiniche, escorted by Davey Manasco.

Claudia Flores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo Flores, escorted by David Moffit. Kerri James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Artis James, escorted by Lance Wedgeworth. Kat Kinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinney, escorted by Timothy Norton. Mary Mounger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Munger, escorted by Marty VanderNoot. Shirley Niolet, daughter of Mrs. Diane Gallagher, escorted by Alex Gonzalez. Karen Parker, daughter of Mr. Robert Parker and Mrs. Pam Parker, escorted by John Gonsoulin.

All birthday girls are presently sophomores at Our Lady Academy.

CONSUMER UPDATE

As the gambling craze grows, so do efforts to control it

By Janet K. Lukens, MBA, CFP
Consumer Management Specialist

Americans legally gambled $330 billion in 1992, a 1,800 percent increase over six years ago, according to U.S. News & World Report. It is projected that gaming will continue to expand and create 500,000 additional jobs this decade.

America's newest pastime, though a boom to the local economy, is undoubtedly a double-edged sword. We are seeing the results of the subtle but powerful psychology used to draw and hold gamblers. Concerned organizations and employers are offering help for those who find the lure irresistible.

How are casinos coaxing cash from the pockets of so many Americans? Casino psychology is no happenstance. Shrewdly maneuvered gimmicks are developed through research on exactly what prompts the gambler to bet.

Some casinos are known to pipe in pleasant scents specifically designed to encourage more wagers.

Dealers are often encouraged to distribute smaller chips for the psychological effect. Customers are more likely to blow five $5 chips but might cash in a $25 chip.

Today's slot machine payoffs are smaller and frequent, in line with B. F. Skinner's positive reinforcement theories which prescribe occasional, random rewards as the best to keep the rat performing.

Employers are one group looking for ways to help individuals deal with the sometimes irresistible urge to gamble. A chapter of the Employee Assistance Professionals Association, Inc. (EAPA) is in the process of forming on the Gulf Coast.

Employee assistance personnel will use this forum in locating resources to assist employees.

Money management problems and gambling addictions are just two of the issues which concern the group.

Employee assistance providers who wish to be involved should contact chapter president Tim Donohoe, 601-688-3005 or vice-president Gini Fellows, 601-388-1403.

Another effort which addresses money management difficulties is a "Money Control" workshop jointly sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and various Mississippi employers.

Money Control workshops were designed to meet the needs of approximately 24 million consumers who are experiencing difficulty paying their obligations.

Workshops are held in small group settings such that a very interactive and dynamic learning process takes place. Sessions are action-oriented focusing on spending, planning, and using credit wisely. They also give participants opportunities to share attitudes and emotional issues about money, security, status and control.

Chevron Federal Credit Union in Pascagoula is sponsoring the first of these workshops to be held on the Mississippi Coast.

Chevron employees and other Chevron Credit Union members are eligible to participate.

Art auction to benefit Fisher House at Keesler

An art auction will be held Saturday, April 23. All proceeds will benefit the "Fisher House."

The Fisher House is a warm, welcoming environment, built to accommodate families of seriously ill or critically injured patients at Keesler Hospital.

The friendly comfortable atmosphere provides a haven for families far from home. No tax funds are used to maintain the Fisher House. The operation and maintenance depends on contributions.

The art auction will be at the Keesler Air Force Base Officers Club.

A magnificent selection of lithographs, etchings, engravings, watercolors, sculpture, enamels, original oils and various mixed media will be auctioned. Many fine artists are featured, including Wooster Scott, Neiman, Peter Max, Rockwell and numerous others.

There are hors d'oeuvres, cash bar and preview at 6 p.m. Auction begins at 7:30 p.m.

A stand-up sale will be Sunday, April 24 from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the officers club.

Everyone is invited to attend.

There is no admission charge.

Checks, MasterCard, Visa and American Express will be accepted.

Evening at the Aquarium set at J. L. Scott Center

"The Sea Floor: From Bayou to Trench" will be the next Evening at the Aquarium program at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 19 at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory's J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi.

The program will feature Dr. Dawn Lavoie, a marine geologist with the Naval Research Laboratory at the John C. Stennis Space Center in Hancock County.

Evening at the Aquarium is co-sponsored each month by GCRL and the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium. Visitors are invited to tour the Center's Aquarium Room following each program.

'The Gondoliers'

National Arbor Day Foundation members to get ten free trees

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during April 1994.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The ten shade trees are Red Oak, Weeping Willow, Sugar Maple, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, River Birch, Tuliptree, Silver Maple, and Red Maple.

"These trees were selected to provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes, and fall colors," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting in April or May with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's "Arbor Day" news magazine, The Tree Book with information about tree planting and care, and a membership card.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to FREE SHADE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by April 30, 1994.

Traffic deaths increase in county and state

For the first time in 20 years, Mississippi traffic deaths in 1993 climbed above 800, according to the Department of Public Safety's Division of Public Safety Planning.

The 813 total is an increase of 47 over 1992 fatalities. Twenty years ago, Mississippi had 883 traffic deaths, but the total over the past 10 years averaged close to 700.

In keeping with state trends, the number of traffic fatalities also increased in Hancock County for 1993 over 1992.

Hancock County had only six fatalities in 1992 compared to 13 for 1993.

"As alarming as the 813 killed in 1993 is, the fact that many of the deaths and serious injuries could have been prevented by common-sense safety measures — using motor vehicle occupant protection devices, such as safety belts and child safety seats, and not driving while impaired by alcohol or other drugs," said Donald O'Cain, Public Safety Planning's executive director.

Of those killed, 85.2 percent of the drivers, 84 percent of front-seat passengers and 88.9 percent of back-seat passengers were not using occupant protection devices. O'Cain noted that approximately 50 percent of these individuals could have been saved by these devices.

Although the final report on fatalities related to alcohol and other drugs is not complete, initial indications are that 40 percent of the fatalities involved these factors.

"Perhaps the the fact that taking common-sense safety steps could save hundreds of lives and prevent many serious injuries might not impress some motorists, but, when we realize that these individuals could include your child, your wife, your husband, another family member, a close friend or you, these safety steps become very significant," said Jim Ingram, commissioner of public safety.

"Don't wait until it's too late; make it a point now to take and encourage others to take important safety steps such as using vehicle occupant protection devices and not combining alcohol and other judgement-

impairing drugs with driving." Of the 813 traffic deaths, 515 were drivers, 164 were front-seat passengers, 70 were pedestrians, 45 were back-seat passengers, 16 were motorcycle/all-terrain vehicle operators or passengers, and three were bicyclists, according to Billy Terrell, director of Public Safety Planning's Office of Highway Safety.

Renowned author to address Hancock Historical Society

Stephen E. Ambrose, renowned author, Louisiana State University-New Orleans faculty member and local resident, will be guest speaker at the April 21 luncheon meeting of the Hancock County Historical Society. Topic is "D-Day on the Home Front."

The meeting is set for noon at the Bay-Waveland Garden Club on Leonhard Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

Pass Historical Society 1994 Tour of Homes

The Pass Christian Historical Society's annual Tour of Homes is scheduled for Sunday, May 8 from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

Tea will be served at the Marshall Frye home from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Houses on the tour include the home of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Crouse. Built circa 1880, the Crouse home is a distinctive story-and-a-half frame, clipped-gable roofed dwelling. It has finely detailed pedimented dormers and an inset gallery with massive chamfered posts and a small pediment defining the central entrance bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Flettrich will be opening their circa 1850 home for the tour. The Flettrich home is a one-story, five-bay cottage with an inset gallery. The house was enlarged and remodeled in the 1940s by master builder Frank Wittmann Sr., so that today it incorporates an earlier three-bay cottage.

The Marshall Frye home will only be open from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. when tea will be served. The house was built about 1910 by Frank Wittmann Sr. It is a superbly detailed and proportioned two-story, frame, hi-roofed Colonial Revival dwelling. Of special interest are the lattice-enclosed, pergola-like entrance porch and pilastered side solaria topped by roof gardens.

Also opening their distinctive late 19th-century cottage will be Mr. and Mrs. John C. Thompson. Full-length four-over-six windows lead onto the gallery of the graceful cypress home.

Pedimented dormers have a sunburst motif in tympanum. The balusters on the gallery as well as the window and door cornices are of particular interest.

The charming cottage in the rear was built before the turn of the century. It has been restored by the present owners, in keeping with the mode of the original cottage and modernized as a delightful guest house.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gildersleeve's home and guest cottage, which are also included on the tour, will bring to mind another era when many Victorian homes were painted in soft colors. The house was built circa 1890.

For touring all five homes and enjoying tea, $10 donations are required for adults and $8 for children. Advance tickets may be purchased at:

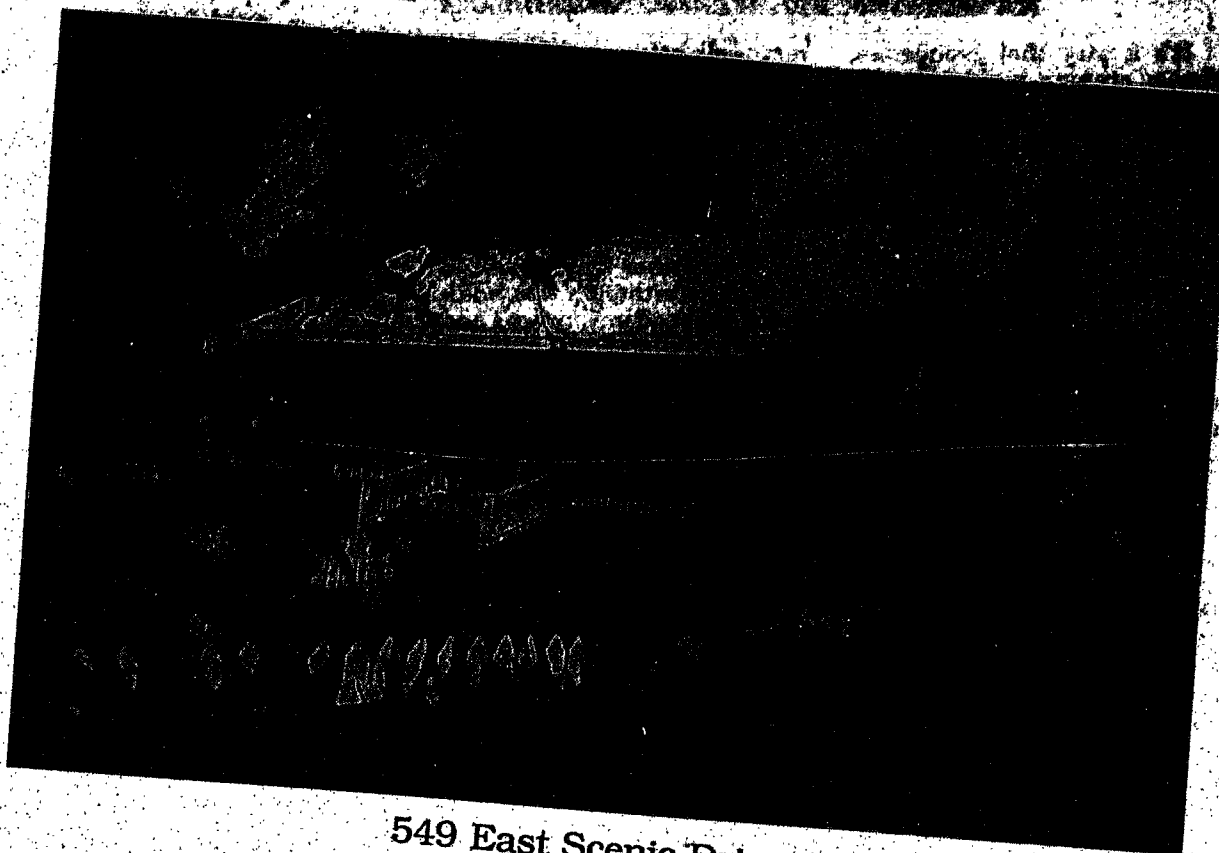

Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce, Hwy. 90 at Pass Christian Harbor

The Book Boat, 101 E. Scenic Drive, Pass Christian

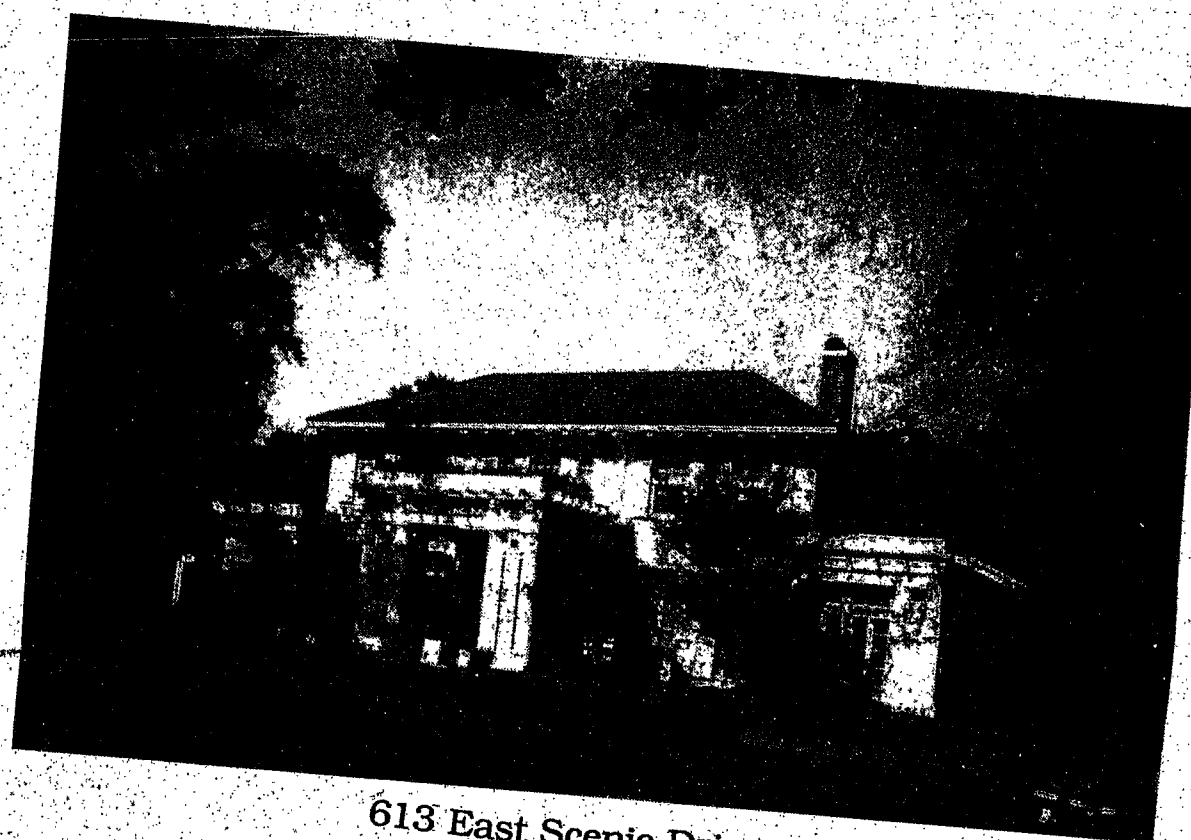

Beaucoup Books, 5414 Magazine Street, New Orleans (504) 895-2663

On the day of the tour, tickets will be on sale at the Pass Christian Historical Society Building, 203 East Scenic Drive in Pass Christian beginning at 1 p.m. and at any of the tour homes during the hours of the tour.

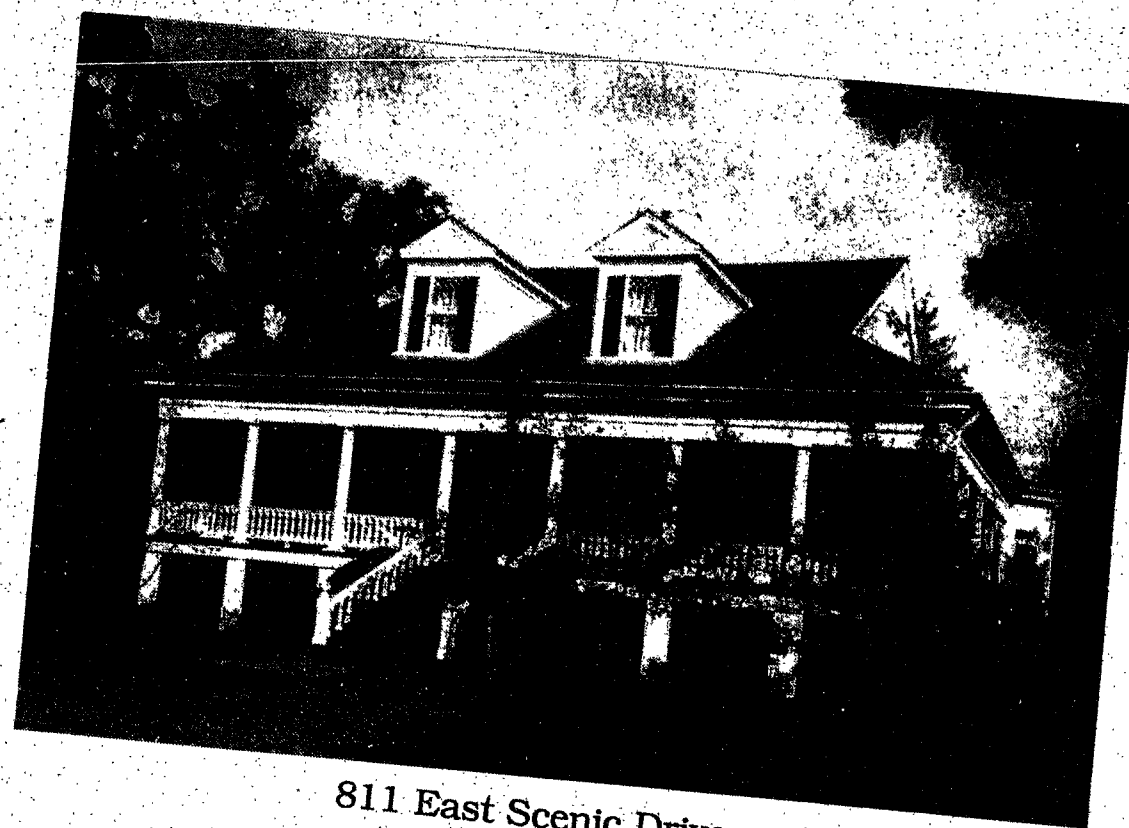

A door prize will be awarded. Register for the door prize by filling out the stub of the tour ticket and depositing it at one of the tour homes. You need not be present to win.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Leftovers that are not too far from the inside of a croquette, or squares or rounds of chicken or seafood or meat mixtures, have for so long been identified with leftovers. The croquette, properly prepared and sauced, is a culinary treat, and one of the most tasty ways to use leftovers. It's a specialty of experienced cooks as well.

The very word "croquette" comes from the French "croquer" which means "to crunch" or "to crackle under the teeth". The basic ingredients are held together with a thickish cream (white) sauce, or brown sauce if you prefer. The mixture is shaped together, breaded and then chilled, a most important step, before frying in deep or shallow oil for a few scant minutes, until evenly browned on all sides and drained very very well before serving. Croquettes are a boon to the budget all through the year, and a welcome addition to the hors d'oeuvre tray when made in bite-size squares or balls. The basic mixture requires finely diced shrimp or chicken or fish or other choice, and is enhanced further by the addition of chopped mushrooms and a splash of wine, if you wish. To serve:

CROQUETTES DU JOUR

1 1/2 to 2 cups finely chopped cooked shrimp or fish, or chicken, etc. (That's just whatever you have on hand or have purchased that day)

4 Tblsp. flour

4 Tblsp. butter or margarine

1 cup milk, (scant this a bit, as you want the sauce rather thicker than usual)

Croquettes great for your left-overs

2 Tblsp. chopped parsley, same of green onions
Lemon juice
Dashes of hot pepper sauce, pepper and salt (optional)
1 egg, mixed with 2 Tblsp. water

Make your cream (white) sauce by melting the butter in a saucepan. Add in the flour and seasonings, stirring and gradually adding the milk, still stirring, and cooking until a thick white or blond roux, as it's called.

Combine with the shrimp or chicken or whatever, according to the contents of your larder, add the parsley and green onions, and sprinkle liberally with fresh lemon juice, mixing all well together. Spread the mixture in a buttered flat dish and chill for a few hours. Then, shape into croquettes, making sure that your hands are well-floured so that the shapes won't stick to your fingers as you work.

Roll in bread crumbs, then dip into slightly-beaten egg which you've mixed with 2 tablespoons of water. Roll again in the crumbs, and if there's time, chill again for awhile before cooking, as the colder they are, the easier the croquettes are to handle and the better they turn out.

Fry until golden in at least a half-inch or so of hot oil in a heavy skillet, turning ever so gently so as not to disturb the crusty coating. Drain well, well. These may be kept warm in a low oven, or reheated in a hot oven. They also may be frozen uncooked, for later use.

Coast Audubon Society

The Mississippi Coast Audubon Society will present a Gardening for Birds Tour in Jackson County Saturday, April 16, and in Hancock County on Sunday, April 17. The tour will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 4 p.m.

"This is a chance to see how to attract birds and butterflies to your own garden by visiting successful gardens up and down the Coast," said spokesman Millie Page.

The Jackson County tour on Saturday will include the Moss Point gardens of Gale Singley, 5219 Griffin Street, and of Don McKee, 3512 Celeste Avenue; the Pascagoula garden of Barbara Minkler, 4206 Pascagoula Street; and the Ocean Springs gardens of Dorothy Collins, 14101 El Camino Real, and of Becky Gillette, 6104 Olvida Circle.

The Hancock County tour on Sunday will include the Bay St. Louis yards of Uneed Laitenen, 1346 N. Beach Blvd., and of Lydia Schultz, 399 Ramoneda Street; the Waveland property of M. L. Dodson, Lower Bay Road; and the Diamondhead garden of Doris Hope, 7810 Loa Place.

Tickets are $10 for one day's tour of $15 for both days. They may be purchased from Lydia's Audubon Shoppe, Waveland; Cowart's Garden Supply, Pascagoula; or by mailing a request and check to Alison Henry, 9153 Ridge Road, Gulfport, MS 39503. Tickets will also be available at each home the day of the tour.

Checks should be made payable to Mississippi Coast Audubon Society. All proceeds will go to Audubon education and conservation projects here on the Gulf Coast.

Humane Society sidewalk sale is Saturday

The Hancock County Humane Society will have a sidewalk sale in front of its Flea Market on Hwy. 90 and Drinkwater Road Saturday, April 16 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Articles will be reduced for quick sale, and many good bargains will be available.

As the society is a non-profit organization and does not receive public funding, the money made from this sale is badly needed.

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra will pay tribute to 'Life on the Coast' at a pops concert at the Biloxi Saenger Theatre Saturday, April 16 at 8 p.m. Among the selections are excerpts from Les Miserables, The Sound of Music, Yankee Doodle Dandy, Phantom of the Opera and Aladdin.

Open rehearsal is Saturday, Apr. 15 at 3 p.m. Tickets for the open rehearsal and concert will be available at the door.

For tickets in advance call 864-4000.

There will be a reception in the lobby 7-8 p.m. with complimentary beverages.

There will be a youth concert Friday, April 15. Coastal schools have been contacted. There are still openings for the 12:30-1:45 concerts. Tickets are $1. For youth concert information, contact Rhomas Rhodeman at 374-3280.

Museum conference

The 15th triennial Volunteer Committees of Art Museums (VCAM) conference will be in New Orleans Apr. 18-20.

Hosted by the volunteers of the New Orleans Museum of Art, VCAM, a non-profit corporation founded in Toronto, Canada in 1952, is open to volunteer organizations of visual arts museums in Canada and the United States.

The three-day conference will offer a full menu of morning and afternoon workshops and panels, as well as special breakfast and luncheon speakers.

Pre-conference activities, tours and registration will take place Saturday, April 16 from 2-6 p.m. and Sunday, April 17 from 8-10 a.m. and 4-8 p.m. at the Westin Hotel.

For more information call Ceil Grossman (504) 738-0649, or Gerry Perrier, (504) 899-1432.

Guitar concert

The Winters School of Music at William Carey College presents Klasinc & Loncar Guitar Duo in concert April 25 at 7 p.m. in the Lucile Parker Gallery in the Thomas Fine Arts Building on the Hattiesburg campus of William Carey College.

The performance is open to the public and free of charge. For information, call 582-6175.

Youth concerts

The Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra has increased its Youth Concerts to four this year. They will be at the Biloxi Saenger Theatre on Friday, April 15 at 9:15 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and 1:45 p.m.

Under the baton of Andrew H. Harper, conductor and musical director, the orchestra will play selections from Aladdin, Cream Puff Polka, The Sound of Music and Yankee Doodle Andy, which is a set of variations on a well-known tune—one of the lighthearted variations is an extended piano cadenza performed by Mississippi native Jerry Alan Bush.

Miss Flanda Switzer, 16, of Ocean Springs will be the guest vocalist singing Climb Every Mountain.

The first two concerts are sold out, but there are openings for the concerts at 12:30 p.m. and 1:45 p.m. Admission is $1.

NOMA

Exhibitions on display at the New Orleans Museum of Art in until May 8 include a unique style of photographic works and a collection of Japanese ceramics.

The unique work of Russian immigrants Rimma Gerlovina and Valeri Gerlovina is showcased in the photography exhibition of Photoglyphs.

Each photoglyph is a large, close-up portrait that compels the viewer to scrutinize and perhaps even unravel its messages. Sometimes humorous, sometimes haunting, the Gerlovins' photoglyphs explore subjects such as faith, mythology, the uses of language and the nature of reality.

Also on display at the museum until May 8 is a world of ceramics, from avant-garde Japanese studio works to turn-of-the-century Newcomb classics.

Modern Japanese Ceramics in American Collections offers one of the most comprehensive exhibitions of modern Japanese studio ceramics ever held in the West. Featured are 120 works by some 87 Japanese artists reflecting the wide range of shapes, sizes, colors, glaze styles and designs produced in Japan between 1935 and 1990.

The exhibitions coincide with the annual meeting of the National Council on Education for the Ceramic Arts, held this year in New Orleans.

Grant review

Grant review panels of the Mississippi Arts Commission (MAC) will meet from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, April 18 through Friday, April 22 and Thursday, April 28 in conference rooms on the second floor of the Robert E. Lee Building, 239 North Lamar Street, Jackson.

All meetings are open to the public. For information call Kathryn Rodenmeyer, public information director, 359-6030.

Exhibits

The Hillyer House in Pass Christian announced exhibits for April including, "Sailing" watercolors by Barbara Quigley of the Coast; Coast sealife designs in pastel glaze pottery by Matt Brabham of Florida; brilliant color glass beads and mixed metal copper and brass sea-charm necklaces by Carrie Gicker of California; and hand-blown glass oil candles in vivid colors by Steve Beasley of Washington.

Upcoming events and demonstrations scheduled for April include:

—April 23-David Haddock will demonstrate sand casting of shells and sealife from 11-2.

A full collection of both artists' works will be displayed and for sale on that day.

More than 100 artists are represented at the gallery and gift shop, located at 207 East Scenic Dr. in Pass Christian.

They are open 10-5 Monday through Saturday and 12-5 on Sunday. Call 452-4810 for details.

Anderson exhibits

The featured exhibit on display until May 1 at the Walter Anderson Museum is "Walter Anderson's Pine Trees in the Wind."

The exhibit, curated by Anne Bradburn, features the patterns and colors of bark, the shapes and strength of the Gulf Coast's dominant tree, as interpreted by Walter Anderson. Many have never been on display before.

Some of the pieces included in the exhibit have become known as Anderson's "trunk paintings"—paintings his family found in a trunk in the old kiln house at Shearwater Pottery more than 20 years after his death.

The exhibit hours are Monday-Saturday 10-5 and Sunday 1-5.

BSLLT memberships

Memberships are available to the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, with several sponsorship levels.

For additional information, call Beth Benvenuti, membership chairman, 467-1402.

Submissions to Artin' About should be sent to The Sea Coast Echo, P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. Notices will be edited and published on a space-available basis.

Diamondhead Arts Society to present 'Musical Splendor'

The Diamondhead Performing Arts Society presents an evening of 'Musical Splendor' Saturday, April 16, 7 p.m. at the Diamondhead Country Club.

Musical variety will headline this third show of the 1994 DPAS season.

Coming to the country club stage will be students of Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College, Perkinston Campus with entertainment encompassing several different periods and styles of music.

The college brass ensemble comprises six brass players, featuring the music of Henry Mancini, Stephen Sondheim, Lerner and Lowe, to name a few.

Mississippi Sound consists of ten singers and dancers who present an exciting 20-minute George Gershwin musical revue.

They serve as good-will ambassadors for Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College at various high schools, churches, civic organizations throughout Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida.

Children's Hospital collects Heinz baby food labels

Mississippians can turn trash into cash to help the state's only Children's Hospital simply by saving and sending in labels from Heinz baby food products. UMC Children's Hospital is a ninth-year participant in the label-saving campaign, and since 1985 has collected a total of 547,769 labels for which Heinz has donated $39,008. Currently 160 hospitals in 49 states participate in the Heinz Baby Food Label Savings Program, and 68 million baby food labels nationwide have been collected which, in turn amounts to approximately $4 million in donations to the participating hospitals. The UMC Children's Hospital cares for patients from all of the state's 82 counties — an average of 60,000 children per year.

Beef Cook-Off contest nears

Cooks who have a winning way with beef can still enter the 1995 National Beef Cook-Off — but not for long. Entry deadline is just around the corner. Until June 1, the National Beef Cook-Off is seeking original, convenient and delicious beef recipes to compete for $45,000 in prizes. That includes a $25,000 cash grand prize for the recipe named "Best of Beef." Enter now to beat the deadline. For entry details, call the National Beef Cook-Off hotline, 800/621-7011, or send favorite beef recipes to National Beef Cook-off Entries, P.O. Box 3240, Chicago, Ill., 60654.

There's something new to remember. From now on, when you make long distance calls to telephone numbers within Mississippi's 601 area code, dial 0 or 1 + 601 and then the number you're calling. The nation's continued telecommunications growth has created a shortage of telephone numbers. By dialing the appropriate area code on all long distance calls, numbers are freed up for new business and residential customers. If you have long distance numbers within the 601 area code on any programmed services or equipment like Speed Calling, Call Forwarding, modems, or even a FAX machine, now's the time to reprogram them. Effective May 1, 1994, dialing the area code will be necessary to complete long distance calls to telephone numbers within the 601 area.

Bay students participate in USM cooperative education

Three University of Southern Mississippi students from Bay St. Louis are participating in USM's Cooperative Education during the spring 1994 semester.

Deborah Baktis, a computer science major, is employed with Naval Oceanographic Office and Katherine Cuevas, a speech communication major, works with the Naval Research Laboratory at Stennis Space Center in Hancock County. Rhonda Lynn Harper, an accounting major, is employed with Accounting Associates in Hattiesburg.

Cooperative education involves a student working in a professional position while attending school. Some students work full time for a semester and go to school the following semester. Others alternate between working and attending classes during the week.

Bay students inducted into Gamma Beta Phi

Four University of Southern Mississippi students from Bay St. Louis have been inducted into the Gamma Beta Phi Honor Society.

Frederick Asher, 19, a freshman computer science major, is the son of Terrence and Kathleen Asher of Bay St. Louis.

Gretchen Breland of Bay St. Louis, 18, a freshman accounting major, is the daughter of Charles Breland of Picayune and Patty Breland of Bay St. Louis.

Jennifer Lee, 21, a senior elementary education major, is the daughter of Michael and Joyce Lee of Bay St. Louis.

Katherine Amber Young, 20, a junior social and rehabilitation services major, is the daughter of Daniel and Carol Young of Bay St. Louis.

The Gamma Beta Phi Honor Society is a national collegiate honor and service organization. Students must attain a ranking of the top 20 percent within their class to be eligible.

PRCC celebrates National Community College Month

Art exhibits, concerts, a Spring Fest and the annual River Extravaganza are just a few activities scheduled for April at Pearl River Community College.

These and other activities will bring Pearl River into focus as it joins more than 1,200 other community colleges in the U.S. to celebrate National Community College Month.

The month is a celebration of past successes and future achievements of community and their students.

"More students are choosing community colleges for their educational needs than ever before," said Larry Stanford, director of public relations at PRCC. "The ability to provide diverse programs and specialized services makes community colleges a great choice for everyone at an affordable price."

More than 5.6 million students took credit classes at the nation's community colleges last year. Nearly 3,000 students make up PRCC's student population.

"We are community-based and governed by a local board of trustees. Therefore, we are responsive to the specific needs of our six-county district," he said.

"Through programs such as our Industrial Training Services, we can keep up with the changing educational and technical demands, and provide our students with the education they need to succeed."

"People choose Pearl River for a variety of reasons," Stanford said. "While our broad scope of instruction and experienced and caring instructors attract many students, our smaller class size, convenient location and lower tuition attract others."

Events scheduled at Pearl River during National Community College Month include (admission is free unless indicated otherwise):

Student Art Exhibit through May 2, on campus.

River Extravaganza, 5 p.m., April 17, White Coliseum, Ronnie McDowell in concert. Fifteen restaurants will provide food. An auction will be held. Tickets are $30 per person. Proceeds help fund scholarships and teacher grants.

PRCC Concert Band Festival, 3 p.m., April 21, Moody Hall.

Band and Choir Concert, 7 p.m., April 25, Moody Hall.

RiverRoad and Stage Band Concert, 7 p.m., April 26, Moody Hall.

PRCC Music Majors Honors Recital, 7 p.m., April 28, Moody Hall.

Hancock High student wins second in district math contest

Hancock Junior High School's Jessica Schwartz placed second in the Junior High District Mathematics Contest held at Pearl River Community College. The Mississippi Council of Teachers of Mathematics sponsors the annual contest.

Jessica, daughter of Sonny and Kelly Schwartz, won second place in the seventh grade level and will advance to state competition Friday, May 6 in Jackson.

Fourteen junior high schools within PRCC's six-county district participated in the contest. First and second place winners in the seventh and eighth grades will compete in the state contest.

Picayune Junior High School's Forrest Osterman won first in the eighth grade level.

Julie Holden of Poplarville Junior High School won first among seventh graders.

Matthew Parker of Hawkins Junior High School in Hattiesburg placed second in the eighth grade division.

PRCC's Department of Mathematics and Physics hosted the contest.

Math Counts team

NRL supports community schools through Partners in Education

Enlightening children to the world of science and technology is a major goal of the Naval Research Laboratory (NRL). The Partners in Education (PIE) program is a tool NRL uses to achieve this goal.

NRL Stennis Space Center's PIE program, under the direction of Linda M. Ladner, sends researchers into local schools to promote science and mathematics and to describe research being conducted at NRL.

Researchers use slides, photographs and videos to provide insight into field experiments and exercises. Through these visuals, students are able to take part in scientific investigations such as ice camping, working and living in an ice camp in the Arctic, and collecting data from Navy vessels in the many seas of the world.

Students also tour NRL for hands-on experiences of science in progress. A demonstration in the Map Data Formatting Facility shows students how Navy and Marine Corps pilots use Compressed Aeronautical Charts (on compact disks) in place of traditional paper maps for navigation, while the Ocean Sciences Branch leads students under the seas to view microorganisms that produce corrosion on ship hulls, and bioluminescent creatures that create magnificent light shows in the dark depths of the oceans.

Science fairs are a major stimulus for students. Encouragement for these students is provided by NRL employees who serve as judges for elementary and high school fairs.

This year, the PIE program provided extensive support to these local fairs. "It is very heartwarming to have so much volunteer support," said Ladner.

Through the PIE program more than 500 students were able to attend the live viewing of the Belize JASON Project in February at the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center.

NRL is the Navy's corporate research laboratory and is charged with the mission of conducting a broadly based, multidisciplinary program of scientific research and advanced technological development. NRL is chartered with Navy responsibilities for ocean, atmosphere, space and mapping, charting and geodesy research and development.

Hancock Jr. High DECA News

Report to the Editor
by Jimmy E. Smith

DECA provides financial education for students. It also provides opportunities to help people in need, and we enjoy our club very much. DECA is a club that has many members and fund-raisers.

We have planned many activities in the past and in the future. The DECA club has many members and fund-raisers. The club has many members and fund-raisers. The club has many members and fund-raisers.

The Christmas party included a cooking contest, games and present exchanging. The cooking contest winners were Heather Sims, Lydia Moore and Amanda Sims. An Angel Tree child was also adopted by the club.

Tom Watson products were sold in a fund-raiser to provide the financial support for service projects and DECA convention.

The club will take three members to convention this year in April.

Jane Lamb

Lamb listed in Who's Who Among Teachers

Jane Lamb, Marketing and Cooperative coordinator at Bay High, has been chosen to be included in the 1994 Edition of Who's Who Among America's Teachers. She was nominated for this honor by a successful former student.

Who's Who Among America's Teachers honors a select five percent of the nation's teachers. The publication will include a biographical profile of Lamb and a list of her educational achievements, professional memberships and honors.

The book will be distributed to school boards, regents, educational organizations and libraries.
